

SingHealth Data Protection Policy

Our Promise to Protect Your Personal Data

As leaders in healthcare, each SingHealth Institution¹ (collectively, “SingHealth”, “we”, “us”, “our” or similar expression) takes its responsibility to protect personal data seriously. Your privacy is important to SingHealth and we are committed to complying with applicable law, including the Singapore Personal Data Protection Act (No. 26 of 2012) (the “PDPA”).

Section 1: Introduction – About this DPP

1. The purpose of this document (“Data Protection Policy”, or “DPP”) is to inform you of how SingHealth collects, uses, discloses, processes or otherwise handles (“Handles”²) your personal data, and to let you know how you can exercise your rights in respect of your personal data.

This is the full DPP

2. You may have seen or been referred to shorter summaries of this DPP which were formatted and edited to meet specific purposes, formats or to provide an easy-at-a-glance look at the key or relevant points of the DPP. This is the full DPP and is the authoritative statement of our policy on the handling of personal data.
3. The portion of the DPP that applies to your personal data will depend on the nature of your transactions, agreements or interactions with us.
4. Please note that though we make an effort, as per legal requirements, to provide reasonably adequate information concerning our policies as it pertains to personal data, this DPP is not an exhaustive list of all the situations or scenarios concerning personal data. Feel free to approach your SingHealth Institution’s Data Protection Officer (see Contacting Us – Withdrawal of Consent, Access and Correction of your Personal Data below) if you need clarification about any specific situation.

We update the DPP from time to time - this version of the DPP was last updated as at 20 March 2024.

5. We update the DPP from time to time to ensure that our standards and practices remain relevant, are up to date, comply with applicable laws and guidelines, and remain applicable to industry trends. The latest version of the DPP supersedes and replaces the earlier versions.
6. The public website at <http://www.singhealth.com.sg/pdpa> contains the latest links and most updated editions of the DPP or resources.
7. We encourage and ask all individuals who interact with SingHealth, including any person to whom personal data relates (each a “data subject”) to check back to the publicly posted / circulated copies of the DPP.

How this DPP becomes a part of your journey with us

8. The DPP is an integral part of your journey with us. It applies to and forms part of the terms and conditions governing your transactions, agreements or interactions with us, whenever your personal data is Handled by us.
9. We bring it to your attention and make it a part of or complementary to your transactions, agreements or interactions with us, in addition to the website and making the copies of this DPP available as mentioned above, by:
 - a. making the DPP available or issuing / providing the DPP to you (or your authorised representatives) upon their first admission as patient following the publication of the DPP;
 - b. making the DPP available upon request;
 - c. including a reference to the DPP in applicable documents / recordings or other media including, generally for all data subjects, agreements, documents, and various forms (e.g. consent forms, data collection forms, feedback forms, application forms, questionnaires, surveys, and any other forms etc.) which may be given to you in the course of your interaction with us.
10. The DPP, having been brought to your attention, becomes binding by your taking any of the following steps:
 - a. proceeding with your transactions, agreements or interactions with us;
 - b. submitting information to us via forms or other data collection means or processes (whether through a form, an interview, undergoing examinations or by other means);
 - c. signing up / applying for medical treatment;
 - d. attending at our premises for visits;
 - e. interacting with our websites, electronic forms;
 - f. calling or sending messages to us;
 - g. transacting with us, or undergoing any treatment or process with us; and
 - h. other means.

Your other / specific agreements

11. This DPP supplements but does not supersede nor replace any other consents you may have previously or specifically provided to any SingHealth Institution in respect of your personal data, and your consents here are in addition to any consents by you or rights given at law to any of the SingHealth Institution to Handle your personal data.

Who will comply with this DPP

12. We ask and require that each of the following parties / persons to abide by this DPP:
 - a. Each and every SingHealth Institution;
 - b. all SingHealth employees, including any healthcare professional (doctors, nurses, etc);
 - c. all volunteers and trainees (including students undergoing healthcare training such as trainee doctors and nurses);
 - d. third parties (including third party partners, service providers, or affiliates) whom we work with and who have agreed to abide by this DPP.

About the PDPA

13. SingHealth Institutions are subject to the PDPA, as well as specific legislation or regulations concerning relevant aspects of healthcare, and your transactions, agreements or interactions with us. More information about the PDPA can be found at the website of the Personal Data Protection Commission (“PDPC”) at www.pdpc.gov.sg

Other Legislation

14. The PDPA is a baseline law that ensures a common standard of protection for individuals’ personal data across organisations in Singapore.
15. For the healthcare sector, existing laws such as Human Organ Transplant Act (HOTA), Termination of Pregnancy Act, the Infectious Diseases Act, etc will continue to apply concurrently with the PDPA. SingHealth Institutions will need to ensure that they comply with current sectoral laws and regulations as well as the PDPA.
16. Where there are inconsistencies between the PDPA and existing sectoral laws and regulations in respect of the collection, use or disclosure of personal data, the provisions of the other written laws shall prevail. For example, the requirements under the Private Hospitals and Medical Clinics Act (or successor / replacing Acts), the Singapore Medical Council Ethical Code and Ethical Guidelines (ECEG), the Human Organ Transplant Act, the Infectious Diseases Act, or Human Biomedical Research Act 2015 (“HBRA”), etc, in respect of Handling of information will prevail over the PDPA, while for the donation of a deceased person’s organs, consent must be obtained from the next-of-kin (i.e. the “Authorised Persons” in the Schedule to The Medical (Therapy, Education and Research) Act (MTERA)) before harvesting the organ.

Section 2: Your personal data

What kind of data will this DPP apply to

17. This DPP applies to “personal data”, which, in this DPP and in line with the PDPA, refers to any data, whether true or not, about an individual (i.e. the data subject) who can be identified (a) from that data; or (b) from that data and other information to which we have or are likely to have access to, including data in our records as may be updated from time to time.
18. The exact type of personal data that may apply in your case will vary depending on the how you have interacted with us. Examples of such personal data you may provide to us include (depending on the nature of your interaction with us) your name, NRIC, passport or other identification number, telephone number(s), mailing address, email address and any other information relating to any individuals which you have provided us in any forms you may have submitted to us (including in the form of biometric data), or via other forms of interaction with you.
19. NRIC, passport and other state issued numbers (national identification numbers, or “NIN”) are requested for and Handled in accordance with applicable PDPA guidelines. Handling of NIN is necessary where the establishment of identity to a high degree of fidelity is needed – this is particularly so for healthcare related purposes given the need for safety, security, prevent of risk of fraud, and accuracy.
20. In some situations, personal data may include tissue specimen, organic materials provided by a data subject (whether as a patient, donor, research participant, or volunteer etc.), but only where such materials are linked with data that can lead to the identification of the data subject. Where human biomedical research is concerned, SingHealth complies with its obligations under the HBRA, which is a separate law and regulation.

What is not personal data

21. Personal data does not include data about a data subject which has been anonymised. Anonymisation is the process of removing identifying information such that the remaining data does not identify any particular individual. Techniques can include pseudonymisation³, aggregation, replacement, data reduction⁴, data suppression⁵, data shuffling⁶, or masking⁷.

22. SingHealth practices and undertakes reasonable safeguards to anonymise personal data in appropriate situations, balancing both the need to rely on and use sufficiently accurate and complete personal data to protect life and health, and avoid mistakes, injury or accidents.

Section 3: Consent

What this DPP enables you and us to do

23. By applying this DPP, you:
 - a. consent to the relevant SingHealth Institution(s) and the relevant person(s) (see “Who will comply with this DPP” above) Handling your personal data in ways which enable us to serve you, provide you with the relevant services, attend to the relevant transaction, or to facilitate our interactions with you;
 - b. enable the exercise of your rights under the PDPA in an operative and applicable framework, including securing the right to access your personal data, withdraw (or manage) your consents and preferences as to your personal data.
24. Your consent may not be necessary or required in some situations as there may be applicable law or regulation which renders this unnecessary, or where certain permissions or rights or duties have been accorded to the SingHealth Institution which enable / require us to Handle the personal data. Where such law or regulation applies, we will act in accordance with those other laws and regulations.

Withholding / Withdrawing Consent

25. You are entitled under applicable law to withhold / withdraw consent to the collection, use or disclosure of personal data, and SingHealth will respect your choices in this regard. You may withhold consent at any juncture that you are asked for consent, and you may also apply the process / method to withdraw consent as stated in this DPP (see Contacting Us – Withdrawal of Consent, Access and Correction of your Personal Data below).
26. However, as is recognised by and provided for under the PDPA, it may be that any choice you make to withhold or withdraw consent may impact our ability to proceed with your transactions, agreements or interactions with us, and in particular:
 - a. in some cases, it may also become unsafe or unlawful for us to provide (or continue to provide) medical treatment without the ability to collect, use or disclose personal data;
 - b. it may not be possible, without undue risk, cost or liability to SingHealth, to proceed with a particular transaction, agreement or interaction with you, and we may be left with no choice but to cease or refrain from the same.

³ Replacing identifiers with other references. For example, replacing an individual's name with a tag or reference number.

⁴ Removing values that are not required for the purpose. For example, removing 'Ethnicity' from a data set of individuals' attributes.

⁵ Banning or hiding the value within a given range. For example, replacing age '43' with the range '40-50'.

⁷ Removing certain details while preserving the look and feel of the data. For example, representing a full string of numbers on a credit card as 4346 XXXX XXXX 5379 instead of '4346 6454 0020 5379'.

27. SingHealth will take the approach that best safeguards us, you and others from risks, and we may well have no choice but to decline to proceed with the transaction, agreement or interaction in question to avoid causing harm or exposing us, you or others to risk.
28. At the same time, it should be noted that your withholding / withdrawal of consent will not prevent us from exercising our legal rights (including any remedies, or undertaking any steps as we may be entitled to at law).

Section 4: Collection of Personal Data

How we collect personal data

29. Generally, depending on the situation, we may collect personal data in the following ways:
 - a. when you submit any form, including but not limited to hospital admission and medical consent forms;
 - b. when you undergo a procedure / process where tissue specimens, organic materials are provided (whether as a patient, donor, research participant, or volunteer etc.), such that this is linked with other data in any way such that you can be identified;
 - c. when, as a patient, you are examined by our staff or medical equipment, or when you are subject to or participate in a medical examination, including but not limited to various forms of screening (which may include the taking of biological samples or matter), or when, as a patient you are engaged in medical procedures (which may result in notes, or records being made);
 - d. where medical monitoring devices and equipment are supplied to you as part of treatment / diagnostics, when we receive personal data from those devices as part of the device or equipment's operation;
 - e. when you interact with our staff, including customer service officers, nurses, doctors, residents, allied health service professionals, and other representatives etc. via telephone calls (which may be recorded), letters, fax, face-to-face meetings and email;
 - f. when your images and/or audio are captured by our CCTV cameras while you are within our premises, or by audio, photographs or videos taken by us or our representatives when you attend events hosted by us;
 - g. when you present yourself and/or submit non-medical documents at our polyclinics at the front counter or service stations in which event we will take a photo or image capture of the same for display and retrieval at front counters, pharmacy counters and consultation rooms;
 - h. when you attend SingHealth's events (e.g. public forums and corporate events) and your voice and image data is captured on our audio and video recordings;
 - i. when you use our services provided through online and other technology platforms, such as kiosks, websites and apps, including through the use of any online platforms / technologies or tools (e.g., eAppointment, mAppointment, web portals, medical devices, security tokens, biometric technologies);
 - j. when you request that we contact you, be included in an email or other mailing list; or when you respond to our request for additional personal data, our promotions and other initiatives;
 - k. when you are contacted by, and respond to, our customer service officers, nurses, doctors, agents and other service providers;
 - l. when we receive your personal data from referral parties (which include other non-Singhealth healthcare organisations, or through referrals between SingHealth Institutions), public agencies (including other government agencies, third party organisations, other professionals with whom you have interacted, such as medical social workers), your representatives (or third parties engaged by you or acting for you, including concierges, assistants, or, in the case of foreign assisted VIP patients, embassy / consulate staff or equivalent), your employer and other third parties;

- m. when we receive personal data from relevant registries such as the registry of National Organ Transplant Unit in respect of organ donors in compliance with applicable including HOTA;
- n. when you make payment or provide details to facilitate payment, or secure or administer the application of funding / benefits / subsidies;
- o. when we seek information from third parties about you in connection with your relationship with us, including from next-of-kin and caregivers;
- p. when you provide any information to our retail malls/retail pharmacy through your participation in market surveys, lucky draws, contests, item reservation, and when you fill up device warranty cards;
- q. when you browse any SingHealth website (you generally do so anonymously but please see the section below on cookies), and you provide such information or login with your account credentials;
- r. from publicly available sources including public social media or information you make available to the public; and
- s. when you submit your personal data to us for any other reasons.

Collection of personal data about you from third parties, & collection of data about third parties from you

30. We may also collect personal data about you from third parties such as:
- a. your representatives / intermediaries / agents or your next-of-kin who may either be doing so on your behalf, or in connection with their own transactions, agreements or interactions with us (in which event we will endeavour to collect only such personal data as may be relevant);
 - b. your employers; and
 - c. your service providers (e.g. your insurers, your bank, etc.).
31. If you provide us with any Personal Data relating to a third party (e.g. information of your next-of-kin, spouse, children, parents, and/or employees), by submitting such information to us, we rely on you and will assume that you are representing to us that you have obtained the consent from the third party to provide us with their personal data for the respective purpose for which we are collecting this personal data.

Accuracy of personal data we collect from you

32. We also rely on you and will assume that you have ensured that all personal data submitted to us is complete, accurate, true and correct.

Risks of relying on data we collect from you that is without consent or which is inaccurate

33. If consents are not procured or if you fail to provide us with complete and accurate information, we may, in some situations, be prevented from providing a patient with medical treatment (or may be impaired in doing so, resulting in risks to that patient) or cause harm to a data subject.
34. SingHealth will take the approach that best safeguards us, you and others from risks, and we may well have no choice but to decline to proceed with the transaction, agreement or interaction in question to avoid causing harm or exposing us, you or others to risk.

How much personal data we collect

35. SingHealth will endeavour to limit the collection of personal data to what is reasonable or necessary for such applicable purposes as described in this DPP.

36. However, it should be noted that in the case of medical / health information, the extensiveness and completeness of information that is collected can mean the difference between saving a life, or preventing the loss of life, and can make a crucial difference between a full and proper diagnosis with appropriate treatment and incomplete or inadequate treatment.
37. Further, the relevance of information may not be immediately apparent at first and personal data may be collected as a matter of precaution to ensure that you or a data subject is adequately protected from or treated for illness.
38. It may also be good medical practice to collect information about a patient or even next-of-kin (e.g. in the case of congenital disorders, allergies, predispositions to certain risks etc), spouse, children, parents, and/or employees.

Withholding information

39. If you withhold information, this can have the same effect as when you withdraw consent (see “Withholding / Withdrawing Consent” above), and as stated in the “Risks of relying on data we collect from you that is without consent or which is inaccurate” section above, we may well have no choice but to decline to proceed with the transaction, agreement or interaction in question to avoid causing harm or exposing us, you or others to risk.

Section 5: Why we Handle Your Personal Data (i.e. the “Purposes”) & to Whom We Disclose It to

40. Generally, a SingHealth Institution Handles your personal data for the purposes set out in this section. Any one or more of the listed purposes may apply to your personal data, depending on the actual situation. The following does not purport to be an exhaustive listing, although an effort is made to set out as many salient purposes as may be applicable.
41. In the sub-sections that follow we set out some of the Purposes which apply to collection or use of personal data in certain scenarios and also identify some of the relevant recipients in the disclosure of personal data. We would also highlight that while a party may be listed as a recipient or source of personal data in these sections, that same party may also be a recipient or source (albeit not listed or mentioned expressly) in other scenarios.

To treat patients or provide medical services

42. We may Handle your personal data, particularly if you are a patient, to provide medical and other allied health treatments, such as physiotherapy, speech and dietetics treatments and therapies.
43. The personal data may be disclosed / shared with healthcare professionals (such as doctors, physicians, residents, nurses, allied health professionals, technicians, students / trainees who are assisting on or providing medical treatment / services), other medical institutions / facilities (including labs, pharmacies, counsellors, care providers such as next-of-kin, service providers etc.), and healthcare providers. In each case the disclosure or sharing of such personal data is solely to such persons or entities which are involved in the care of the patient.
44. The purposes for which such personal data is Handled includes:
 - a. admitting the patients, and the onboarding of information on relevant data subjects necessary to establish patient records and to commence treatment and care of the patient;
 - b. managing your relationship with us, and providing medical treatment, services and advice, including and without limitation to the management of your appointments, registration,

- c. counselling, advising you of alternative treatment options, sending notifications to you, communicating patient care issues, securing instructions on treatment choices;
 - c. contacting family members / next-of-kin / representatives for purposes of providing patient location (e.g. when visiting), medical updates, and seeking consent from them in emergency/incapacity situations;
 - d. ensuring appropriate delivery of core patient care services including delivering results of tests and other medical updates (including via SMS), facilitating set-up, rental, registration (including with equipment / device or relevant service providers) and/or configuration of healthcare services equipment, ordering and/or making of customised splints/ surgical wafers;
 - e. ensuring proper and complete diagnosis and appropriate treatment including and without limitation to identifying health / treatment risks (e.g. collecting, identifying and communicating vulnerabilities, conditions, allergies, potentially adverse reactions, adverse events, device failures / issues, etc.) and monitoring appropriateness of medication usage, specimen testing and reporting recording patient infection data;
 - f. prescribing and dispensing appropriate medication whether through SingHealth pharmacies or other channels;
 - g. ensuring a patient's health and safety (including, for example, advising you of a product or drug recall);
 - h. administering compulsory / legally mandatory medical procedures (e.g. newborn vaccinations);
 - i. verifying patient identity, preventing impersonation / fraud, and documenting accurate information for e.g. newborn or birth registration, certification of reportable diseases, certification of death;
 - j. internal auditing, managing medical records, including facilitating patient merge processing and answering requests for medical records (including compilation of centralised medical records for quick reference by various internal departments for medical purposes), producing medical reports and associated administrative documents;
 - k. managing patient access by visitors or visitation rights;
 - l. co-ordinating healthcare services provided by other healthcare providers;
 - m. referring / collaboration with/ transferring patients to other institutions, healthcare professionals, caregivers, persons, organisations for procedures, additional support on treatment, specialist assistance, the procurement or provision of follow up care or as part of integrated / seamless / holistic care arrangements;
 - n. conduct medical reviews to better address your medical risks and improve patient care (e.g., via medical board meetings such tumour board meetings etc);
 - o. coordinate and facilitate follow-up home visits post-discharge;
 - p. monitor and facilitate the post-discharge and/or post treatment transition of patients' care to partners (including community partners, allied health professionals, step-down care, home care and the like);
 - q. supporting, organising, co-ordinating, facilitating or executing regional health programs;
 - r. working with funeral directors, casket companies, morticians, or other like persons as may be necessary to discharge duties with respect to a deceased individual; and
 - s. all other purposes reasonably related to the aforesaid.
45. We may also Handle personal data (such as telephone number and email address) to contact you and/or your representatives to remind you of appointments at the SingHealth Institution. Telephone calls may also be made as part patient care and follow up (including but not limited phone triage, or consultation).

For emergency prevention of injury or death

46. We may also disclose personal data in emergency situations affecting (or causing serious threats to) the health, life, safety of any individual (e.g. to notify appropriate authorities where we believe a person has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence). Such disclosures will be made to such persons as may be necessary to address or respond to the situation.

For healthcare operations

47. We may Handle your personal data in order to execute healthcare operations. In brief, this relates to planning, execution, administration and implementation of functions or things which are necessary to run the relevant SingHealth Institution. Your personal data may also be used to respond to the service needs of patients as well as other data subjects.

48. Purposes under this heading include:

- a. acknowledging, responding to, processing and handling your complaints, queries, requests, feedback (including patient experience interviews or surveys, and including for purposes of improving services, or recognising service achievements, which, in each case, participation would include us reaching out to you and/or responding to your feedback) and suggestions;
- b. managing the administrative and business operations of the SingHealth Institution, including file management, tracing of old reports, old films and old clinical notes for review and audit studying and improving efficiency, standards and quality of the SingHealth Institutions' services and operations;
- c. complying with internal policies and procedures, including recording and managing room utilisation;
- d. personalising your experience at the SingHealth Institution's touchpoints;
- e. patient location tracking so as to better monitor, contact and safeguard patients and security of the facilities;
- f. right siting patients to ensure that the correct and most appropriate level / type of healthcare services are applied and making appropriate referrals or directions accordingly or to transfer patients accordingly;
- g. matching any personal data held which relates to you for any of the Purposes;
- h. recording telephone call conversations (including overseas calls) to mediate complaints against staff and train call centre assistants;
- i. requesting feedback or participation in surveys;
- j. processing and billing for medical services delivered and collecting payment on debts;
- k. conducting clinical quality update and morbidity and mortality review;
- l. handling potential legal claims, manage litigation cases and review legal cases;
- m. analysis for statistical, profiling or other purposes for us to conduct category analysis, financial analysis, investigate service lapses, and to review, develop and improve the quality of our products and services;
- n. quality improvement projects and/or data analytics for service enhancement and improvement, including workload management, efficiency requirements, process re-engineering or management / introduction of new processes or technologies to enhance / supplement service delivery, and all associated interactions with service providers, regulatory bodies or related companies to facilitate or support such purposes;
- o. To develop predictive tools so as to enhance treatment and diagnosis, and to manage risks;
- p. to study workflows for efficiency and effectiveness including data capture and processing;
- q. conduct reviews, reporting and examining case studies, incidents (including incident reporting and governance), issues encountered with a particular data subject so as to understand, minimize and avoid risks, service failures or hazards;
- r. undertaking preventative measures to safeguard any individual, property or defend and maintain legal rights;
- s. to clarify issues or matters which have arisen in connection with existing or potential disputes;
- t. to clarify and resolve discrepancies or reconcile information and establish accurate records;
- u. to carry out root cause analysis of issues for the compilation of reports to management and to address investigations;

- v. ensuring the safety of the SingHealth Institution's staff and operations;
 - w. data mining to track pharmaceutical drug transactions, usage patterns and drug movement;
 - x. to identify and establish ways to improve or deliver more appropriate products, services or developments to better address the needs of data subjects;
 - y. to combine, collate, compile, analyze, review or submit reports or recommendations to meet the Purposes listed above;
 - z. to ensure that staff, volunteers, students (including medical students, trainees or other staff) are properly trained to provide medical services or execute their functions in the context of healthcare operations generally;
 - aa. to meet organisational auditing, accreditation and compliance requirements concerning service standards;
 - bb. sending staff for occupational health reviews; and
 - cc. all other purposes reasonably related to the aforesaid.
49. For these purposes, disclosures may be made to SingHealth's staff who have a need to know, such as administrators, patient navigators, doctors, nurses, allied health professionals, executive / administrative staff, as well as persons who can assist SingHealth in undertaking these purposes such as analysts, consultants, advisors, educators, or other similar persons.
50. Disclosures for this purpose can also be to SingHealth Institutions' regulatory body (such as MOH) who monitor performance for public healthcare operational indicators, affiliated institutions, other SingHealth Institutions, community health centres or polyclinics, or to the SingHealth Institution's service providers. In the case of other SingHealth Institutions, the Handling of personal data will be under the framework of intra-group agreements / policies that ensure that the standards in this DPP are followed / applied.
51. Disclosures may also be to agents, debt collection agencies, contractors or third party service providers who provide operational services to the SingHealth Institution, such as courier services, telecommunications, information technology, payment, payroll, processing, training, market research, storage, archival, customer support investigation services or other services to the SingHealth Institution, or other vendors or other third party service providers in connection with services offered by the SingHealth Institution.
52. For some SingHealth Institutions, it may be necessary to disclose personal data records to a shared third party service provider or vendor, or via another SingHealth Institution, in order to obtain the services of that vendor. In such instances, reasonable safeguards will be taken to ensure the confidentiality of your personal data records.
53. In the case of third party entities, the SingHealth Institution will ensure that agreements in place with such third parties to hold them to the standards in this DPP.

To minimise or eliminate errors which can cause harm & to safeguard the health, safety or well being of individuals

54. SingHealth believes that the making of decisions and taking of steps in relation to the healthcare of a patient involves great care and should be made on the basis of complete and accurate information. Should a situation develop where the lack of information about an individual (whether a patient, next-of-kin, or other person) or the lack of completeness of a particular record could result in the creation or rise in risk to the health, safety or well being an individual (e.g. through errors, or inability to validate information etc.), it is essential for our staff to be able to take steps to minimize or eliminate such risks and any personal data may be collected, used or disclosed by us for this purpose.
55. In such cases, collection, use or disclosure will be made strictly to the extent necessary and to such persons as may be necessary to achieve the minimization or elimination of such risks.

To leverage the use of information technology tools and platforms as may be appropriate to provide services

56. SingHealth Institutions are progressive and continually exploring ways to advance the seamless and efficient delivery of healthcare services, and information technology (“IT”) tools and platforms are central to this drive.
57. For this purpose, SingHealth Institutions may Handle personal data using IT platforms and tools promulgated by MOH, MOHH or other like body including, but not limited to the National Electronic Health Records (“NEHR”) system. SingHealth Institutions apply and require the application of reasonable and defensible security and access controls in the use of such systems, such that organisations other than the SingHealth Institution treating or transacting with you have only such access as is on a need to know basis for purposes and in a manner consistent with this DPP and/or where (and to the extent) necessary to meet your needs.
58. SingHealth Institutions also work with partners such as Integrated Health Information Systems (“IHIS”) who run IT services within the SingHealth Institution. For the purposes of meeting your needs, such IT services include establishing the scope and requirements of projects, testing systems / applications, fulfilling IT support and service requests, and managing changes and configurations in IT infrastructure. Personal data is shared with IHIS under appropriate agreements which ensure that IHIS only accesses or Handles personal data as our data intermediary on a need to know basis for the purposes and in a manner consistent with this DPP.
59. SingHealth Institutions may also, as part of the efforts to increase security and efficiency around healthcare operations or the handling of any information including personal data, make use of third party IT platforms and services. Where so, SingHealth Institutions will ensure that such engagements are made with appropriate legal, operational, technological and security controls.

To comply with applicable law / regulations

60. As healthcare providers, SingHealth Institutions and/or its staff are subject to and regulated by various statutes and regulations such as the Private Hospitals and Medical Clinics Act, Medical Registration Act, Singapore Medical Council Guidelines etc. Additionally, special legislation may apply to certain healthcare scenarios, e.g. National Registry of Diseases Act, Infectious Diseases Act, Human Organ Transplant Act, Termination of Pregnancy Act, etc. Such legislation (collectively, “Medical Laws”) may override / apply in place of the provisions / standards set by the PDPA in respect of the subject matter of such legislation. We may owe duties under such Medical Laws to Handle your personal data in certain ways, including making disclosures to appropriate government agencies, ministries, statutory bodies, or third parties in each case in accordance with and within the scope of our legal duties.
61. Other compliance obligations may include where health information is to be collected, used, disclosed or process to meet requirements under other ministries including the Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of Community, Youth & Sports (MCYS), the Immigration Checkpoint Authority, the Singapore Police Force, the Singapore Medical Council (or other vocational regulatory bodies), or to comply with court orders.
62. In addition, SingHealth may be required to collect, use or disclose personal data for the purposes of facilitating business asset transactions (which may extend to any merger, acquisition or asset sale); and in order to comply with any applicable rules, laws and regulations, codes of practice or guidelines or to assist in law enforcement and investigations by relevant authorities.
63. Examples of such purposes include:

- a. notifying and registering with various registries including processing, registration and notification of births or death, and reports to disease registries;
 - b. facilitating reporting of infectious diseases and contact tracing if you are exposed to a certain infectious disease e.g. chickenpox or identifying and reporting an outbreak or cluster of infection;
 - c. reporting relevant suspected adverse drug reactions experienced by patients to HSA;

Granting access to a patient’s personal data to a Patient’s Representative

90. SingHealth will accept any notification from a court or competent legal authority as to the identification of any individual appointed under applicable law, regulation or court order as a Patient’s Representative and SingHealth will grant any such person access to the personal data of the patient where required by such law, regulation or court order.
91. Where the patient is a minor, we will, unless otherwise alerted with due proof of contrary authorisation / order, make the reasonable assumption that each parent (meaning both parents, whether married, separated or divorced) has full rights of access to the minor patient’s personal data unless otherwise alerted with due proof of contrary authorisation / order, or where our staff (including any doctor, counsellor, or administrator) take the view that such access could jeopardize the health, safety or well being of any person.
92. Every patient who is of majority age (i.e. above 18 years old) and with full legal capacity, is entitled to exercise his / her legal rights to identify any persons who are to act as a Patient’s Representative. In such instances, we will, unless otherwise instructed by the patient, or alerted with due proof of contrary authorisation / order, make the reasonable assumption that any immediate next-of-kin (i.e. parents, siblings, and children) may be contacted in respect of emergencies or in situations where contact is needed to safeguard to preserve the health, safety or well being of the patient.
93. Should any patient of legal age of majority, with full legal capacity, wish for any SingHealth Institution to instruct us to limit access to his / her personal data or include only certain named persons in the handling / administration of any personal data or matters concerning the individuals healthcare, we will respect these decisions, subject to appropriate verifications / processes to ensure that such instructions are properly given.

NOTICE to all persons identifying themselves as a Patient’s Representative

94. For this reason, notice is given to all individuals that even if they identify themselves as a Patient's Representative, such identification may not match our latest records / instructions from the patient, or such records / instructions may limit access to the patient's personal data. In such cases, SingHealth reserves the right to decline access, pursuant to our obligations under the PDPA.

Contacting persons in emergencies / safeguarding of health, safety & well being

95. Notwithstanding the above, SingHealth has a right under the PDPA to contact such persons or execute such steps involving the Handling of personal data as may be reasonably necessary to address emergencies or in situations where contact is needed to safeguard and preserve the health, safety or well being of the patient, or to comply with our legal obligations.

Section 8: Research Purposes

96. At SingHealth, we are committed to serving the needs of all our patients by constantly pushing the frontiers of our services through research. To the extent that research refers to human biomedical research under the HBRA (https://www.moh.gov.sg/content/moh_web/home/legislation/legislation_and_guidelines/_human-biomedical-research-act.html). We have committed a significant amount of resources into our research processes (<https://research.singhealth.com.sg/Pages/ORIC.aspx>) so that the outcome of our research studies may offer better clinical care and outcomes to all our patients today and for generations to come.
97. All other activities such as efficiency reviews, study of support activities mentioned elsewhere in this DPP which are intended to improve the quality and delivery of our healthcare services. SingHealth is in compliance with PDPA and will apply reasonable safeguards to the Handling of your personal data when executing such activities.

Section 9: Academic Medicine

98. In order to deliver better services and care to our patients, SingHealth actively engages in the sharing and teaching of medical knowledge with our healthcare interns and students. In order to train and inspire future generations of medical professionals, it is important for us to let them gain experience through first-hand patient contact and involvement in our core hospital operations. This should not be confused with medical research - any research done in this regard is part of training and education to qualify medical professionals and support training purposes.

103. In relation to particular products or services or in your interactions with us, we may also have specifically notified you of other purposes for which we collect, use or disclose your personal data. If so, we will collect, use and disclose your personal data for these additional purposes as well, unless we have specifically notified you otherwise.

Section 12: Security, Retention & IT matters

Security

104. Each SingHealth Institution will take reasonable efforts to protect personal data in our possession or our control by making reasonable security arrangements to prevent unauthorised access, collection, use, disclosure, copying, modification, disposal or similar risks. However, we cannot completely guarantee the security of any personal data we may have collected from or about you. E.g., that no harmful code will enter our website (for example viruses, bugs, trojan horses, spyware or adware).

Retention

105. Each SingHealth Institution retains such personal data as may be required for business or legal purposes, and such purposes do vary according to the circumstances.
106. Whilst each SingHealth Institution will securely dispose of or anonymise personal data which it can reasonably determine is no longer needed and does not generally hold on to personal data "just in case", it is in the interests of any caregiver or person treating the patient to be able to refer to a complete set of medical records to avoid risks to health and safety of the patient.
107. As such that, with respect to the medical records of patients, unless specific contrary instructions from the patient are received, the relevant SingHealth Institution may (but is not obliged to) retain such medical records for as long as the SingHealth Institution may be potentially consulted for further follow up by (or on behalf of) the patient even where such consultation may not occur until after a substantial period of time or there is no current or present indication that the patient may well return for further consultation or follow up.
108. One important aspect of medical records is that there are laws which require that we retain them to meet legal, regulatory and compliance purposes, and the retention period required to meet these purposes can include are lengthy. National systems such as National Electronic Health Records (NEHR) are also where many medical records are stored. We comply with the laws, operational and regulatory procedures and processes which apply to the retention of such records on NEHR.

IT Matters

109. While we strive to protect your personal data, we cannot ensure the security of the information you transmit to us via the Internet, and we urge you to take every precaution to protect your personal data when you are on the Internet. We recommend that you change your passwords often, use a combination of letters and numbers, and ensure that you use a secure browser.
110. If applicable, you undertake to keep your username and password secure and confidential and shall not disclose or permit it to be disclosed to any unauthorised person. Please inform us as soon as reasonably practicable if you know or suspect that someone else knows your username and password or believe the confidentiality of your username and password has been lost, stolen or compromised in any way or that actual or possible unauthorized transactions have taken place. We are not liable for any damages resulting from any security breaches, on unauthorised and/or fraudulent use of your username and password.
